

International Complexity: Pasminco

Our Joint History

Pasminco Limited is the largest integrated Zinc Mining and Smelting company in Australia with international operations across Asia Pacific, Europe and the USA. A global project to implement SAP across all sites and business units (excluding the USA) needed expertise across all mainstream SAP modules and involved a particularly large data cleansing and conversion effort. Deloitte Consulting was chosen as the Implementation Partner with Exactitude selected as the technical developers, in partnership with Pasminco staff. A key issue for Pasminco was rationalizing and standardizing its Information Technology platforms and processes. Significant development was required to implement real time interfaces to manufacturing, warehousing, barcoding and export documentation subsystems. Modules requiring significant Exactitude expertise were Sales and Distribution, Plant Maintenance, Materials Management, Project Systems and Human Resources. Exactitude consultants were key resources in an ambitious worldwide rollout that covered a dozen different operations in four countries within a 12-month period. The entire project was delivered on time and under budget.

Our Approach

Exactitude brought a core of experienced consultants into the Pasminco project and built an impressive team over time as demands increased. The project covered a large cross section of SAP modules and technologies, requiring Exactitude consultants to demonstrate high level of multi-module and system integration skills. The demands of remote rollouts had Exactitude consultants on site as well as centrally located, working with all levels of Pasminco staff from the shop floor through to upper management. The excellence of the resources Exactitude brought to the project were key deliverables to the overall success of the project, and led to an ongoing relationship where we have provided resources to subsequent upgrades, a Euro currency conversion and general support work.

Our focus with Pasminco, as with other customers, is to demonstrate excellent skills matched by flexibility, teamwork and responsiveness. By always searching to add value to our assignments, we develop longer term working relationships of mutual benefit and support.
